

Snowy Winter Day Layered Hot Cocoa Mix Craft

Submitted by -Major Dina Graciani-ARC Command West

There's yumminess in every jar you make of your snowy winter layered Hot Cocoa mix. It's a great gift idea to give with a personal mug, or a fun table favor for you up-coming parties.

HERE IS HOW!

YOU WILL NEED:

1. Small ½ pint 8oz Mason jar
2. 1 package of hot cocoa mix (you can use sugar free also)
3. Mini marshmallows
4. Chocolate chips
5. White chocolate melting chips
6. A cinnamon stick
7. Twine of any color
8. Tie gift tag

Start by opening your package of hot cocoa mix, pour it into the bottom of your jar. Place your stir stick in jar (the cinnamon stick) next spoon over the cocoa mix a large tablespoon of mini marshmallows, next a tablespoon of chocolate chips, next 3-4 white chocolate melting chip, now another tablespoon or 2 of marshmallows fill to the very top. Now squish down your mason jar lid over all that yummy goodness.

To decorate use rustic twine or colorful red twine around the lid tie it in a knot with end available to tie a decorative tag onto twine.

DIRECTIONS TO MAKE DRINK:

Pour all ingredients into a large mug, heat 8oz of water up, pour hot water over the yummy goodness in your mug, using your cinnamon stick to stir all ingredients together until its smooth, and rich.
